CAMPAIGNS COST MONEY

Considering the congratulations the state is receiving on the debates between Sen. Buckley and Robert A. Taft, Ohioans are more than ever eager to see the senatorial campaign maintained on a high level. After many years in the shade, Ohioans would like to enjoy some of the political sunshine they deserve.

It depends largely on the two men. If they choose to campaign without the use of smearing and prejudice, preferring to discuss legitimate issues, they can gain a reputation for enlightenment which will benefit both them and the state. If either one lowers the standard, the spell of political intelligence which they have cast over Ohio will be broken.

It is unfortunate that Sen. Buckley has raised the question of campaign expenditures. Obviously, Mr. Taft cannot conduct a campaign without funds. The expense of his campaign has been pre-determined largely by the fact that Sen. Buckley is backed by a federal administration which can dispense public money in Ohio in a way calculated to help him.

This is a campaign issue which has not been unduly agitated in Ohio. In many states it has been charged openly that candidates approved by the administration were being aided with public funds at their opponents' expense. If Sen. Buckley insists on condemning Mr. Taft for having to spend money to give him a contest in Ohio, it will become necessary for Mr. Taft to speak more plainly concerning the source of his opponent's campaign funds.

Political campaigns cost money. Sen. Buckley is in a poor position to accuse the opposition of extravagance.

THE LABOR ACT'S THE ISSUE

In discussing the national labor relations board order directing Republic Steel Corp. to reinstate 5,000 workers in six of its Ohio plants and the board's reasons for issuing such an order it is highly desirable to remember one thing:

That the labor board is the administrative agency of the national labor relations (Wagner) act and draws its power from that act. Presumably, it is administering the law to the best of its ability, charges of bias and prejudice to the contrary notwithstanding. Administration of the law can be no better than the law itself.

The significant thing about the board's order to the steel company is that it deals only with certain legal rights of the men who joined the strike against the company. The board and the law behind it are not concerned with the rights, legal and ethical, of men who did not join the strike, though it has been claimed and never successfully denied that non-strikers were a numerical majority, both in the separate plants involved and in the corporation as a whole.

The corporation has filed a petition for appeal in the federal circuit court at Philadelphia. It charges the Wagner act is unconstitutional if it gives the labor board the power it has exercised. In other words, the real issue is whether or not the United States is satisfied with a labor act vulnerable to constant attacks on the grounds it does not measure up to constitutional standards because it is one-sided in its approach to the problem of labor relations.

SAVE THE LEAF WEEK

There's a type of person made unhappy by the sight of any large accumulation of wasted material. A newspaper office littered with paper sets them to thinking unhappily that there should be something constructive to do with it. In their own homes, they brood morosely over piles of junk in the basement, wishing they could transform it into practical uses. A barrelful of used tin cans breaks them out in a chilly dew of perspiration.

Right now they're biting their fingernails about the leaf situation; they do it every fall. Truth is, there's a stern challenge in the sight of a street piled high with leaves which is likely to make almost anyone uncomfortable. This must be because of instinct which warns that wilful waste makes woeful want. There's a practical use for dead leaves.

What you do with them is make compost piles in the back yard. Sprinkled down with agricultural lime occasionally, they disintegrate into leaf mold, which is high grade fertilizer for next spring's flower gardens. The street department, which has to worry about carting away leaves raked into the gutter and repairing pavements where piles of them have been burned, would be tickled pink if there were more local residents who would worry seriously about saving leaves.

A DILEMMA IN RED

As the Strachey incident closes, with the Englishman returning home to pursue his intellectual titillations on communism, it becomes evident that governments which still believe in tolerance are facing a growing dilemma.

The United States is sharply aware of the fact it is host to many individuals far more communistic in their thinking than John St. Leo Strachey, an amiable and intelligent parlor pink who has almost as much trouble getting himself accepted by his own allies in the class war as by those who refuse to believe there needs to be a class war.

Great Britain is in the same fix. An American Communist would have at least as much trouble getting into Britain as a British Communist getting into the United States. Yet, the Communist party is a going institution in England.

The difference between an alien Communist seeking entry and a native Communist, who may also be an alien, as in the case of Harry Bridges, the Pacific coast labor leader, is the difference between Tweedle-Dum and Tweedle-Dee. Nevertheless, governments retaining the principle of political tolerance cheerfully split hairs to guarantee the rights of domestic subversionists while throwing up barriers to exclude importations.

SEVERE HISTORIC LINK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Japan, in taking Canton, has severed the United States' first historic link with China and has cut off the birthplace of the open door policy.

Hence Japan's occupation of South China is assuming to officials here an importance far transcending the economic effect it is expected to have on American commerce in that region.

It was through Canton that America made her initial contact with China; her first consular representative to China was accredited there in 1787; the first American missions were established in that region; for scores of years the only port of entry to China was Canton, and out of it developed the United States' present policy toward China.

America's contact with Canton goes back to 1785, when the first Americans in eastern Asia reached there on the trading ship Empress of China. They had sailed direct from New York around Cape Horn. Stories they told of great profits to be had in trading with the Orient whetted the ambition of other merchants, especially those of New England, to extend American trade to the Orient.

Because merchants of other foreign nations having colonies and warships nearby could count on better protection than could Americans, the Yankee traders respected Chinese sovereignty and authority. They sought the friendship of the Chinese officials and generally succeeded.

Out of this attitude grew the later policy of the United States government: America was willing to respect and also preserve the sovereignty of the Chinese empire and its territorial independence.

All the United States insisted on was equality of treatment for its citizens with those of other foreign countries better able to employ force.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, October 25

JUDGING BY the lunar transits, this may be a day that will be encouraging to all manner of new projects of a highly-constructive nature, and this despite certain detriments, obstacles or opposition. The latter may come from elders or those in important positions, but determination, energy and enterprise are likely to win the day and with flying colors. Tact, diplomacy or strategy would not be amiss.

Those whose birthday it is will find themselves in a year of opportunity for engaging their initiative and skill in constructive lines of a rather important character. This is forecast despite the hostility of influential personages. Enterprise and determination may win support of the "opposition camp".

A child born on this day may be enterprising, aggressive, persistent and practical, winning its way by hard work and application rather than through financial aids or speculative enterprises. Its manner may incite hostility.

Each Tissue Has Its Own
Special Form of Metabolism

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

In our study of the body in the last few weeks, we have dwelt on the thesis that the body is an organism for the conversion of food and oxygen into energy and tissue. The digestive system prepares the food. The respiratory system seizes oxygen from the air. They both enter the blood. And the heart and circulatory system carry the blood to all the tissues.

We have spent a week in studying each of these systems. Now we come to the central part of the process—the actual utilization of the prepared food and oxygen in the tissues. This is called metabolism, or nutrition.

The muscles are the main spots where this energy-producing process goes on.

Own Peculiar Form

Of course, every tissue has its own metabolism. Each tissue has its own peculiar form of metabolism. In the bones, for instance, calcium and phosphorus metabolism predominates. The muscles mostly utilize sugar.

Oxygen is common to all metabolic processes, so we do not need to concern ourselves with it specifically.

Each of the food elements plays a special role in metabolism. And for each there is a certain disorder, or disease.

The food elements are:

(1). Carbohydrates—starches and sugars, represented in the diet mostly by the vegetables, fruits, cereals, breadstuffs, etc.

(2). Protein—animal tissue, represented by milk, eggs and meat.

(3). Fat—represented by butter, the fat of milk and eggs, oils (olive oil) and the fat of meats.

(4). Minerals. The body contains many minerals. "Enough lime to whitewash a chicken coop," as one physiologist expressed it. It needs to have these replaced in the food—calcium, phosphorus, iron, magnesium, sodium chloride (common salt), sulphur and many others.

(5). Vitamins. These substances are probably not true metabolites, but they assist and are in fact indispensable in the processes of nutrition.

Produce Energy

Some of these functions primarily as energy producers, and some as tissue builders. The carbohydrates, for instance, are energizers. There is no carbohydrate in the makeup of the actual tissues of the body any more than there is much gasoline in the parts of your automobile engine. But the body utilizes a great deal of carbohydrate, just as your engine utilizes its weight in gasoline every so often in order to run.

The protein and the minerals are mostly tissue builders. They are the same chemical composition as the body tissues themselves.

Fat is sometimes used as an energizer and sometimes it becomes part of the body tissue.

We will take up each of these elements in separate articles this week.

Kaufman-Moss Hart Pulitzer prize play, "You Can't Take It With You," opened Sunday to show through Tuesday at the State theater with a cast which includes Jean Arthur, James Stewart, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold, Mischa Auer, Ann Miller and numerous others.

"You Can't Take It With You" was produced and directed by Frank Capra from the screen play by Robert Riskin. These Columbia film-makers have been lauded time and again for their "It Happened One Night," "Lady For a Day,"

Lionel Barrymore and Jean Arthur as they appear in the screen version of the stage success "You Can't Take It With You" at the State tonight and Tuesday.

"Lost Horizon" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." "You Can't Take It With You," based on the stage success for which Columbia paid $200,000, is said to exceed even the previous efforts of the two brilliant collaborators.

The new film deals with the lovable and perfectly delightful Vanderhof family, which believes in doing whatever it wants to.

In their old New York home, presided over by Grandpa Vanderhof, this uninhibited group reveals a heart-warming attitude toward life in a merry melange of comedy, flavored with romance and tinged with pathos.

"You Can't Take It With You" is concerned, in part, with the proud aristocratic Kirbys, as well as with the carefree Vanderhofs. Kirby's monumental plan to form a huge munitions merger, a move which requires the purchase of all property within an area of twelve city blocks, is halted when Grandpa Vanderhof refuses to sell the Vanderhof home at any price. The plan of Kirby's son to marry Alice Sycamore, his secretary, is blocked when she brings his parents to dinner one night, only to discover the Vanderhof family engrossed in its various eccentric affairs.

The romance and merry-mad conflict of the two families, coupled with the enjoyable hobbies of the Vanderhofs and their many friends, is declared to make "You Can't Take It With You" one of the outstanding productions of the season.

Prominent in the supporting cast of the new Capra film are Spring Byington, Samuel S. Hinds, Dub Taylor, Donald Meek, H. B. Warner, Halliwell Hobbes, Eddie Anderson and Lillian Yarbo.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 24.—The Ohio State grange expressed opposition to the proposed judicial appointment amendment today in a broadside distributed over the name of State Master W. F. Kirk.

A committee of attorneys and others is sponsoring the initiative movement, which would empower the governor to appoint appellate and supreme court judges from lists of eligibles to be prepared by a special judicial council.

Hungary Patriots Ask Satisfaction

BUDAPEST, Oct. 24.—An intense wave of patriotism today swept Hungary, waiting for an early showdown in her territorial dispute with Czechoslovakia.

Unless Czechoslovakia accepts Hungary's demands for Hungarian-populated areas by Wednesday, well-informed quarters said, an army of almost 500,000 men is prepared to cross the frontier.

The Prague government has submitted five proposals to Hungary for settlement of the nationalities issue, none of which has been accepted.

Impatient Hungarians, aroused by the protracted negotiations over their own demands while those of Germany and Poland already have been satisfied, plastered Budapest's billboards with slogans demanding "Justice for Hungary."

Unimpressed by heavy Czechoslovak troop concentrations opposite the Hungarian frontier, army officers and civilians declared "We are not afraid."

The nation, meanwhile, was whipping its forces into peak efficiency. The numbers of soldiers and officers appearing on Budapest streets constantly was increasing and the training of khaki-clad recruits was progressing rapidly.

Shot Adds Mystery In Chicago Slaying

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—A shot fired into the living room window of a home added a new element of mystery today to the slaying of Mrs. Mary De Vuono, an attractive housewife.

The home is that of the victim's sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Forstner. The police interpreted the shot, fired last night, as a warning of some kind and asked ballistics experts to compare the bullet with those which killed Mrs. De Vuono.

The slain woman, a brunette 28 years old, was found fatally wounded on a divan in her home Saturday night. She was clad in pink pajamas and black slippers.

Investigators said they believed the killer slew Mrs. De Vuono while sitting with her on the divan. One shot was fired through her head, the other through her heart.

Then her husband, Rosario, 33, a haberdashery clerk, said he found her on his return from work. De Vuono, who could offer no motive for the slaying, was held in technical custody for an inquest. Also held for questioning was Joseph Dandrea, 24, who, investigators said, was an admirer of the victim.

Police Capt. John Horan said he was convinced the husband knew nothing about the slaying.

Your tired nerves need frequent relief

Known variously in early Scottish history as Skye terrier, Highland, Cairn, and Scots terrier, although that dog bore no resemblance to Skyes and Cairns of today. Nicknamed the "die-hard" for stout heart and unquenchable love for sport. Extremely independent.

SCOTTIE

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST...

AND SO IS HE

LIKE humans, dogs have a complicated set of nerves. But dogs are kinder to their nerves than we. They rest when they need rest... while we plunge ahead with our hurry and worry—straining our nerves to keep up with the fast pace. We can't turn back to the natural paces of life like an animal, but we can protect, soothe, and calm our nerves. Smoking a Camel can be your pleasant method for breaking nerve tension. Camels are mild, with the flavor of a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Smokers find Camel's mild tobaccos delightfully soothing—soothing—to the nerves.

SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE ADVISE

"Let up—light up a Camel"

DID YOU KNOW?

—that tobacco plants are "topped" when they put out their seed-head? That this improves the quality of leaf tobacco? That most cigarette tobacco is harvested by "priming"—removing each leaf by hand? Camel buyers know where choice grades of tobacco are—those that cure nicely—the mild, ripe, fragrant tobaccos. Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS... Turkish and Domestic.

Smartly Styled 1939 Oldsmobile Models Attract Motoring Public's Attention

SIX-CYLINDER CAR IS ADDED

Brings Oldsmobile Quality To the Low-Price Field

Three smart new Oldsmobiles for 1939—two sixes and an eight—all offering a fresh new note in modern streamline styling and much that is new in mechanical design, are meeting with approval of Salem motorists. The new models on display at the C. L. Zimmerman garage, N. Lundy ave., are attracting many inquiries.

Among the high points of interest in the cars with which Oldsmobile starts its 43rd model year are:

1. Addition to the line of a brand new six-cylinder car which brings Oldsmobile quality to the low price field.

2. Introduction on all models of the "Rhythmic Ride," a new perfection of roadability and riding comfort resulting from quadri-coil springing in combination with four separate stabilizing factors built into the chassis.

3. Attainment of perfect steering geometry through a new hook-up employing a relay link with twin tie-rods of equal length, termed "dual center-control steering."

4. Introduction of Handi-Shift as standard equipment—a replacement of the conventional gearshift lever by a short, horizontal manual shift arm on the steering column.

5. Continuation as an optional extra on all models of Oldsmobile's automatic safety transmission which provides important added advantages in performance, operating economy and ease of control.

The low priced six, known as the Series Sixty, is powered with a newly developed "Econo-Master" engine of 80 brake horsepower designed to provide top flight performance at minimum operating cost. A larger six, developing 65 horsepower and with a wheelbase of 120 inches, is designated the Series Seventy, while the 110 horsepower straight eight on the same wheelbase has been named the Series Eighty.

Smartly Tailored
All three series bear a general resemblance in the graceful treatment of flaring, low-valanced fenders, smartly tailored metal trim, smoothly contoured all-steel turret top bodies and safety steel wheels with massive chrome hub caps. The front end of the hood curves downward to meet the narrow, die-cast

Many New Features On New Oldsmobiles

The automatic safety transmission, an exclusive Oldsmobile feature, has been improved further in design and reduced substantially in price for 1939. The short gear shift arm may be operated without removing the right hand from the wheel. It has two forward positions which control the low and high speed ranges. The latter provides a powerful third or "pick-up" gear for extra acceleration and an economical fourth or cruising gear which reduces engine speed by approximately 20 per cent. It is necessary to use the clutch only when starting or stopping the car.

radiator grille, creating a fleet, close-to-the-road impression and affording the driver a marked advantage in foreground visibility. The aprons on either side of the radiator grille carry low, bullet type headlamps, recessed above horizontal chrome louvers which provide additional air inlets for efficient engine cooling.

Among the many new Oldsmobile developments for 1939, the one which probably will draw major attention, is the "Rhythmic Ride," according to C. L. McCuen, general manager of Oldsmobile, offers an entirely new conception of motoring comfort which results from the absolute control maintained over the action of the "Quadri-Coil" springs by the various stabilizing devices designed and built into the chassis.

Coil springs now are employed both front and rear. The front wheels are individually sprung (knee-action), while a traverse axle connects the rear wheels. All four of the coil springs have a constant rate of deflection—a feature impossible of attainment with leaf springs because of lubrication and friction variables.

Tyson Winter-Proofing Assures Safer Driving

Motorists of the Salem district soon must take steps to winter-proof their cars. These precautions have to be taken as surely as one changes his clothing when fall and winter comes along.

Efficient Work
When the times comes for this work to be done, try the service at the Tyson West End station, West State st., and Benton rd. Thorough, efficient work is assured—guaranteed to make driving easier and safer in the months ahead. Safeguard against a possible breakdown along a wind-swept highway and time wasted waiting for a tow-car. Enjoy fall and winter driving to their full extent.

The Tyson station is distributor for famous Freedom oil products. Winter-proofing by trained employees will include special chassis lubrication for comfortable winter driving and a complete check of parts to watch at this time of the year. There will be a change of crankcase oil to the proper grade for winter. Special attention is given the transmission and differential. The lubrication department of the Tyson station is especially equipped to care for service of hypoid gears.

Radiator Service
Complete radiator service will be available. This includes flushing and draining all water and substances from the radiator and refilling with anti-freeze. Some drivers will prefer to have their lubrication work done now and watch the weather later for filling up with anti-freeze. This may be done easily, but change of lubricant is urged right away. It's just a matter of greater driving efficiency and comfort as well as a protection against possible repair bills.

Prepare For Trip
Servicing can be done while the usual day's work is being carried on, and the car will be delivered to the home or business place as desired. After that has been cared for, don't forget to stop in at Tyson's before starting on trips. The tank will be filled with peppy motor fuel, water and oil will be checked and the windshield and rear window cleaned.

WILLYS CALLING 2,000 TO WORK

Employment and Production Being Stepped Up at Plant

TOLEDO, Oct. 24.—Following an enthusiastic approval by leading technical editors and automotive authorities of the new models shown at the 1939 preview, employment at the plants of Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., is being stepped up rapidly here this week according to a statement by D. R. Wilson, president.

At a series of meetings of distributors and dealers handling national distribution, the production plans for the coming year were enthusiastically endorsed.

Several manufacturing divisions have been in operation on the new cars for some time, with others re-opening as fast as necessary re-tooling and readjustment of machinery for the new production is completed. More than 2,000 men are scheduled to return to work before the end of next week.

Many Advances Seen

While details of the new production have not been announced, reports from distributors and dealers who have viewed the new lines indicate a widespread enthusiasm for and acceptance of the cars which are said to incorporate many of the most significant advances that will be presented in the automobile industry.

Early interest on the part of dealers from all parts of the country, and the enthusiasm already evidenced by many thousands of Willys owners in anticipation of the models which will be produced by the company indicate an immediate and widespread market which will be waiting at the time of the public announcement.

Distributors and dealers generally report a definite indication of early buying.

Such information as has been made available indicates notable developments both in engineering advances and in general styling of the new cars which, it is said by leading distributors and dealers, will further strengthen the position of Willys-Overland in the low price field which it occupies.

Shipments of the new models will start early in November and the cars will be announced at the opening of the national automobile show in New York City on November 11.

Monk's garage, W. State st., is local dealer for the Willys. Ernest Monk, owner, will be glad to answer inquiries concerning the new models.

KEEPS CLOTHES SMART, STYLISH

Paris Cleaning Helps Maintain Complete Wardrobe

When fall comes around folks like to have their clothes look smart, and remain that way. There's a certain something in the air that makes people want to be doing something—football, autumn trips, entertaining, many other things.

Clothes can be worn comfortably and with more pride when the wearer knows they are fresh and clean and kept so the Paris Cleaners way.

When the clothing or household materials are returned from the Paris, there is smarter finishing, with every touch of styling retained. Never is there the faintest trace of cleaning odor. L. C. Price, manager, says that once one has tried this service, he will never go back to old-fashioned methods.

Patrons have no reason for fears of the condition of their most expensive silks and rayons, their most delicately colored fabrics. Price operates delivery trucks to pick up and return clothing and materials for cleaning. After a trip to the Paris notice how fabrics come back with all their original freshness and charm.

No longer is it necessary to say "Nothing to wear." Paris service has removed this excuse with short-notice work. Nap is restored to polo coats, evening gowns or wraps are refreshed and cleaned, suits are given tailored pressing and perfect cleaning.

COSMOPOLITANS TO PLAY HERE

Cleveland Trio Is Booked This Week at Metzger Hotel

Management of the Silver Cocktail room at the Metzger hotel today announced the booking of the Cosmopolitans for a week's stay, beginning today.

The Cosmopolitans, who recently completed their ninth consecutive month at the Blackbird room of the Carter hotel, Cleveland, were accorded recognition as one of the most accomplished trios in that city.

Their popularity is based on their ability to please their patrons with everything from the long-hair stuff to society swing.

And all three of the boys are still pursuing their musical studies—Mel Emerson, leader and violin, goes to Western Reserve university; Dick Lurie, guitar, and Paul Ludlow, string bass, attend Cleveland Institute of Music.

Lurie was recently honored by being chosen to play tuben in a symphony concert under Rodzinski's direction. The tuben was recruited from the Phillys and was one of the four available in the country.

LONDON — The Demonion district raid prevention officer left a gas mask for practice purposes at one of the houses in his jurisdiction. When he returned four days later he discovered it had been traded for two goldfish by the 7-year-old daughter of the family.

UNBEATEN TEAMS FACE ANOTHER HARD WEEK

KENT-CARROLL BATTLE HEADS OHIO PROGRAM

Two Dozen Games on This Week's Menu Among Ohio Colleges

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Oct. 24.—Two dozen games, 13 with foreign foes, two in the Buckeye and eight in the Ohio conference, make up this weekend's Ohio college grid menu, with the spotlight trained on the Kent State-John Carroll contest at Cleveland Friday night.

In the headliner Kent and Carroll toes on the block their unbeaten-untied records, and their hopes of the Ohio conference and state championship. These two top-notchers, with Western Reserve, made up the "clean record" contingent after Saturday's upsets knocked Marshall, Dayton, Case and Ohio Northern out of the select class.

In 32 battles with out-of-state opponents this year, Ohio squads have won 26, lost 23 and tied four. Six of this week's intercollegiate games are on local grids and seven on foreign fields.

Ohio State tops the travelers, going to Gotham to vie with the Violets of New York University. Heavy interest also hinges on Dayton's invasion of Huntington, W. Va., for a decisive Buckeye conference fray with Marshall. The Flyers and the Thundering Herd unbeaten and untied up to Saturday, were victims of startling upsets. Miami bowled over Dayton 14 to 0, while Toledo defeated the Herd 13 to 7.

Miami meets Ohio Wesleyan, which has failed to count a point in five starts, in another Buckeye league game.

Other outstanding games punctuate the Saturday program, among them Cincinnati at Ohio university, Boston university at Western Reserve, Carnegie Tech at Akron, Providence at Xavier, Youngstown at West Virginia, and Toledo at Wayne.

The other games are:
Friday night: Mount Union at Ashland, Capital at Marietta, Baldwin-Wallace at Case, Oberlin at Wittenberg, Muskingum at Wooster, Findlay at West Liberty State, Alfred Holbrook at Georgetown, Juniata at Hiram, Detroit Tech at Denison, Michigan Normal at Bowling Green, Wilberforce at Tennessee State.

RAMS TERROR OF PRO LOOP

Cleveland Team Going Strong After Poor Beginning

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Green Bay, new western division leader and perennially one of the National Professional Football league's most feared title challengers, will go to Cleveland next Sunday to verify reports that a once gentle Ram eleven has become the terror of the league.

Much improved over the club which last year finished with a single victory, Cleveland lost its 1938 opener to Green Bay 26 to 17. It stumbled twice more. Whereupon Art Lewis, 25-year-old former Ohio university tackle, was named to supplant Hugo Bezdek as coach.

The Rams immediately butted their way into a sensational winning streak which yesterday reached three in a row. The sweep came over such power clubs as Detroit and Chicago's Bears, only teams to whip Green Bay.

Yesterday the Rams gave a convincing enough demonstration their earlier 14 to 7 triumph over the Bears was no fluke by forward passing the Chicagoans into submission 23 to 21 and knocked them from first place in the western division.

Washington maintained its first place hold in the eastern division, combining its aerial attack with a hard running game led by Andy Farkas to defeat Philadelphia, 20 to 14.

BOWLING NEWS

Four Salem bowling teams, including one ladies' quintet, were involved in special matches at home and abroad over the weekend.

The Grate Recreation team defeated the Akron A's, 2425 to 2286, and the Loudon V-8's lost to the Akron Golden Age five, 2257 to 2199, in men's matches at the Grate alleys Saturday night. A ladies match saw the Glidden Paint team of Salem win over the Gareri Cafes of Akron, 2146 to 2062.

Avenge a previous defeat, Tyson's West End Service Station keggers trounced the Canton Racel Flowers, 2484 to 2372, in a match at Canton Sunday. In doubles competition, Gregg and Shepherd of Salem lost to Zintmaster and Capurra of Canton, 1097 to 1074.

Notre Dame Noses Out Carnegie Tech 7-0

A hard-fighting Carnegie Tech team held the vaunted Notre Dame eleven scoreless for three quarters of the contest at South Bend, but lost the match in the last quarter, 7 to 0. Tech's right halfback, George Muha, is shown crashing through the Notre Dame line for a five yard gain.

Bill Kern Says "Bonehead" Official Lost Irish Game

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—Coach Bill Kern of Carnegie Tech challenged the nation's football coaches today to match what he termed football officiating's prize "bonehead," which set up a 7-0 victory for Notre Dame against Kern's team Saturday.

"It was the biggest bonehead I ever saw pulled by any official," fumed Kern upon his return from South Bend. "It certainly meant defeat for us. Getchell was on our boys all afternoon and then he had to cap his general tactics with booting a decision a High school boy wouldn't have been guilty of."

SALEM SEVENTH IN N. E. O. MEET

Finishing seventh among 12 teams in the annual northeastern Ohio scholastic cross country meet at Akron Saturday, Salem High school qualified one runner for the state meet at Delaware this coming Saturday.

The lone Quaker runner to earn the right to compete in the state finals was Charles Huddleston, who placed fifth in the field of 69 distance runners who raced the two-mile distance over the Akron Municipal golf course.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Some of the New York scribes reported that Fordham's smashing win over Oregon was just the answer to the Rose Bowl snub. . . . We had a wire from California last night (don't know how much the guy knows) that Don Budge is typing it out. . . . Waite Hoyt, the pitcher, is doing a nifty job as sports scribe over a New York station. . . . The Pirates must do something about it, so Pie Traynor has started by bidding for Al Lopez (and here's a modest $1 bet he doesn't land him).

Cefero Garcia's fight with Henry Armstrong likely will be the toughest the little colored boy has ever had. . . . Garcia can hit like nobody's business (if he can get set) and this scribe will risk a moderate wager he is the new welterweight champ. . . . Any takers?

Barney Ross, who has fought both of them, sticks to Armstrong. . . . Joe Louis will be at ringside when the thing comes off. . . . The most popular of the newer coaches in the east right now is Ossie Solem of Syracuse. . . . That guy really is making a hit.

You could have knocked us for a loop the way the Yales went after Michigan in the first half Saturday. . . . You'll see one of those football games you read about when Fordham goes out to Pittsburgh this week. . . . Both are primed. . . . Here's an odd one: Three of the class prexies at St. Norbert's college at West Deperre, Wis., are members of the boxing squad. . . . Out in New Mexico they think they're another Whizzer White in Bill Dwyer, of U. of New Mexico, and All-American pickers might keep an eye on him. . . . So far this year, this chronicler has covered only one football game, but if you can point out two better backs than Ed Williams of New York U. and George Stirmwells of North Carolina (how did the guy ever escape from Fordham prep?), we're willing to learn.

Leon Clegg, who has been bothered with a skin infection on his face ever since the world series, is hiding out at Babylon, Long Island, fishing and hunting on the side. . . . Mebbe you didn't know that Freddie Bartholomew, juvenile screen star, is an expert figure skater. . . . The Brooklyn college football squad held only a light practice the other day because the players had to turn in and help erect 5,000 bleacher seats for the City college game.

In the second quarter a Boardman kick rolled to the Lisbon 10-yard stripe. Kearney attempted to punt from behind his own goal line. The kick was blocked. Kearney falling on it for a safety, putting Boardman ahead, 2-0. Lisbon managed to get into Boardman territory late in the frame but never threatened seriously.

Boardman opened up an aerial attack in the third period, advancing 53 yards to the eight-yard mark. Bretz skirted end for the touchdown. The extra point kick failed.

Boardman threatened near the end of the game but Lisbon held Boardman attack with DeSellel starting for Lisbon. The home team was handicapped by the absence of Nace, veteran halfback, who is injured.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—A trio of ball-toting stars from small college teams heads the nation's football scoring lists today while the leaders of major conferences trail far behind.

Everett Elkins of Marshall college, Huntington, W. Va., who led the parade a week ago, was held scoreless last Saturday and found a rival who could equal his point-getting pace in Leroy Fry, a halfback from the Texas College of Arts and Industries. Each has made 66 points in five games to top the list compiled by the Associated Press. Elkins has 11 touchdowns, Fry 10 touchdowns and six extra points.

WILDCATS WILL AGAIN TRY TO HALT GOPHERS

Northwestern Team Has Not Been Scored On This Season

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Northwestern, the team that kept Minnesota from a four-year Big Ten football monopoly by snaring the 1936 championship, will attempt to break up another Golden Gopher title reign Saturday.

Where Purdue failed by a touchdown and Michigan by a single point, the Wildcats, full of veteran power and sophomore talent, are confident they can stop Bernie Bierman's powerhouse.

Not a point has been scored against the Purple this season in four games. Last week it resorted to no more than ordinary offensive maneuvers to flatten Illinois, 13 to 0.

Meanwhile, the Gophers were resting for their big test. They benefited further by the idle weekend since it gave Harold Van Every, their star passer, and Wilburn Moore, fleet halfback, an extra week to recover from recent injuries.

The game is one of four conference engagements Saturday. Two will bring together Purdue at Iowa and Illinois at Michigan and unscramble a five-way tie for fourth place. Wisconsin takes on Indiana in the other Big Ten game.

Mike Byelene, a sophomore and one of Purdue's three star "B" ball carriers, led the Boilermakers to a 13 to 7 victory over Wisconsin. Byelene hurled one touchdown pass to Jack Krause and ran 73 yards for the winning score.

The Boilermakers will be the favorites over the Hawkeyes, who lost last week to Colgate's Red Raider, 14 to 0. Michigan, which had to resort to forward passes to escape a Yale aerial barrage that threatened defeat with each pitch, is likewise favored over Illinois.

Indiana, beaten 13 to 6 by Kansas State, will be still after its first triumph of the year when it encounters Wisconsin—and the odds are against it.

Notre Dame will continue its national title quest against Army after a scare in a bruising battle against Carnegie Tech that wound up 7 to 0 in favor of the Irish.

Jim Langhurst, Ohio State's husky sophomore fullback, played through two games without scoring, the first of three consecutive scoreless games against Chicago Saturday to take over leadership in the Big Ten's individual scoring race.

Langhurst had 18 points, two more than Iowa's Jerry Niles, another sophomore fullback.
